Stuart Quill is the current Head of Music at Brisbane Boys' College. He trained at the Queensland Conservatorium of Music completing a Bachelor of Music (Vocal) in 1995. In 1996 Stuart completed a Graduate Diploma of Education at the University of Queensland and since then has taught in schools in both the public and private sectors.

Stuart has also sung with Opera Queensland (OQ) since 1994 as both a chorus member and principal artist. He covered the role of Zuniga from Bizet's "Carmen" and played the role of Customs Sergeant in the 2007 OQ production of "La Boheme".

Stuart has conducted a range of school and community choirs and in 2001 the Bremer Chamber Singers, under his direction, won the Choral Fanfare, a competition for state schools from around Queensland. He enjoys working with his church choir which regularly performs at retirement villages and for the church's community.

History of GPS Music Concerts

Since its inception in 1999, each of the schools in the Association has been privileged to host this key event in the GPS calendar. The Gold Coast Arts Centre, the Old Museum, the Empire Theatre in Toowoomba, the Ipswich Civic Centre and the Queensland Conservatorium of Music (Southbank) have all been splendid venues for this magnificent celebration of music in our schools.

The objectives of the GPS Music Day are to:

- celebrate and promote the musical talent of our students and staff
- develop a sense of community amongst all the music staff and students in our GPS schools
- provide a challenging musical experience in a workshop-style day
- create an opportunity for students and staff to work with a noted guest conductor
- allow students to showcase their musical talents in a Grand Concert forum

We have been fortunate to have enjoyed the involvement of many dedicated staff, tutors and professional musicians who have contributed enormously to the musical development of our students since the inaugural event. Many former students would attest to the fact that their participation in this day was a rewarding and memorable experience.

Tonight, in our 10th Anniversary year, we come together once again to celebrate the achievements of the many talented staff and students in our schools who have made this event such an outstanding highlight in the GPS calendar. May the tradition of excellence continue for many years to come.
